Macricostas School of Arts & Sciences
Department of Computer Science
Adjunct Teaching Positions

Western Connecticut State University is pleased to announce applications are being accepted by the Department of Computer Science for part-time adjunct teaching positions.

The Computer Science department offers a BS in Computer Science, BA in Applied Computing, Minor in Computer Science, as well as minors in Security, Digital Media, Informatics and Web Development. It also offers Computer Science service courses, such as Problem Solving with Computers, Introduction to Programming, Website Production, and other, serving students majoring in other disciplines. Additional information about the department may be found at http://www.wcsu.edu/cs/.

Position Summary: The successful candidate will be assigned up to two courses per semester. Initially these will be courses in Website Production, but later they may be assigned other introductory Computer Science courses. The class sizes are capped at between 15-38 students each. WCSU’s small classes allow for student-based teaching and learning and project-based activities.

Qualifications: A Master’s degree in Computer Science or a closely related discipline and ability to teach introductory Computer Science courses. Previous teaching experience will be an advantage.

Salary & Benefits: Minimum starting salary will be $1,526 per load credit (or a minimum of $4,578 for a single three (3) credit course). Additional information on benefits can be found at www.wcsu.edu/hr/benefits/. Further, part-time faculty at WCSU are represented by the American Association of University Professors.

Application Process: Interested applicants must submit to the Chair of the Computer Science department Gancho Ganchev at ganchevg@wcsu.edu a letter of application, which outlines interest in, and qualifications for, the position and areas of teaching expertise and experience, a current curriculum vita and at least three (3) professional references commenting on the applicant's teaching and/or work experience. All application materials should be submitted as PDF files.

Application Deadline: The application process is ongoing and will remain open until the positions are filled.
