"The lyrhe songs brush between insanity and brilliance. The music is complexly simple. This music makes me want to eat pop rocks and soda. This music makes me want to clap my hands. This music makes me want to scream from the top of an apartment building. Confused? Become more so and listen to Bedford Davis."

The band's first album features 6 original compositions with open, vamp based forms that include group improvisation and groove based music. The band's second album is half straight ahead, half electro-acoustic jazz. The quartet plays more of its vamp based music and includes some special guests.

Bring your own Drums if you have any and join Dan Mustin for a drum circle. Dan has a number of international drums and loves to share. Come on down and join the drum circle!

If you have never been to a Coffeehouse at WCSU, you should stop by and check it out. It's every Thursday night in Alumni Hall and begins with one hour of open mic for students, faculty and staff. We have some amazing performers who sign up on a regular basis. The open mic session is usually followed by a one hour Feature Act featuring performers from NYC and the greater Tri-State area.
